1.2. Regulatory Framework

The capital adequacy and overall risk management requirements pursuant to EU Capital Requirements Directive 2013/36/EU ("CRD IV") and EU Regulation No. 575/2013 ("Regulation" and/or "CRR") have been replaced by amended prudential rules.

Specifically, the new prudential regime for Investment Firms has been approved by the European Parliament in December 2019 and is comprised of the Investment Firm Regulation on the prudential requirements (EU) 2019/2033 ("IFR") and Investment Firm Directive on the prudential supervision of Investment Firms (EU) 2019/2034 ("IFD").

IFR on the prudential requirements of Investment Firms became directly applicable in all EU Member States on 26th of June 2021 whereas IFD on the prudential supervision of IFs has been harmonized into Cyprus legislation through the issuance of the Cyprus Law on the Prudential Supervision of CIFs of 2021 (L.165(I)/2021).

The new prudential framework introduced many changes such to the methodologies that investment firms are required to apply for quantifying their exposure to risk and deriving their Capital Adequacy Ratio as well as to the required level of initial capital, their Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process ("ICAAP") which is replaced by the Internal Capital Adequacy & Risk Assessment ("ICARA") Process and a newly introduced Liquidity Requirement according to which, among others, Firms are required to maintain liquidity levels equal to at least one third of their Fixed Overhead Requirement.

In addition, the new prudential framework introduced a new classification for Firms. The Company is classified as Class 2 CIF and is required to hold €750K of initial capital as at 31st of December 2022, in accordance with Article 14 of the IFR and Article 9 of the IFD.

The IFR/IFD prudential framework consists of a three (3) Pillar approach, used to regulate, supervise and improve the risk management of firms. The three (3) Pillars and their applicability to the Company, are summarized below:

- Pillar I "Minimum Capital Requirements": covers the requirement of the Company to maintain at all times a sufficient amount of capital above the minimum requirement in relation to certain key risks, as calculated using prescribed methods.
- Pillar II "ICARA and Supervisory Review and Evaluation Process ("SREP")": which assesses the internal capital adequacy processes and whether additional capital is

1.3. Sanctions and Restrictive Measures in response to Russian Invasion to Ukraine

Since March 2014, the EU has progressively imposed restrictive measures (sanctions) against Russia, initially in response to the illegal annexation of Crimea and Sevastopol and the deliberate destabilization of Ukraine. On 23rd February 2022, EU expanded the sanctions in response to the recognition of the non-government controlled areas of the Donetsk and Luhansk oblasts of Ukraine and the ordering of Russian armed forces into those areas. Following the 24th of February 2022, in response to Russia's military aggression against Ukraine, the EU has massively expanded the Sanctions and Restrictive Measures.

In response to the crisis in Ukraine, during the year 2022, the EU Council published nine (9) packages, a compliance package and a maintenance and alignment package. Specifically, through the so-called Sanctions and Restrictive Measures added a significant number of persons and entities to the sanctions list and adopted unprecedented measures with the aim of significantly weakening Russia's economic base, depriving it of critical technologies and markets, and significantly curtailing its ability to wage war.

The crisis is increasingly affecting economic and global financial markets and exacerbating ongoing economic challenges, including issues such as rising inflation and global supply-chain disruption. Because of its broader impact on these macroeconomic conditions, many companies globally and locally may need to consider the crisis effect on both operational and financial reporting matters.

The degree to which entities are or will be affected by them largely depends on their operations, the nature and duration of uncertain and unpredictable events, such as further military action, additional sanctions, and reactions to ongoing developments by global financial markets.

The Company is continuously monitoring the situation and is continuously being kept informed for the issuance of any Sanctions and Restrictive Measures Package and/or Circular by CySEC through the continuous monitoring of the section "Sanctions/Restrictive Measures" on CySEC's website and through RSS services. In addition, it has performed a test review of its clients in order to ensure that it did not maintain any business relationship with any individual and/or legal entity mentioned on the Packages.

3.2.1. Market Risk

Market risk corresponds to the risk of a loss of value on financial instruments arising from changes in market parameters, the volatility of these parameters and correlations between them.

Market risk mainly arises from:

1. Foreign Exchange Risk: It is a financial risk that exists when a transaction is denominated in a currency other than the base currency of the company and there is a risk that the value of financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The foreign exchange risk in the Company is effectively managed by the Senior Management who monitor the exchange rate fluctuations on a continuous basis and act accordingly. For the year under review, the Company's exposure to foreign exchange risk is Euro 400,063.

JFD Group Ltd is authorised and regulated by the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission - CySEC (Licence number: 150/11) and is a Member of the Investor Compensation Fund (ICF). JFD Group Ltd operates in accordance with the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID II) and is licensed to provide the investment services of reception and transmission of orders in relation to one or more financial instruments, execution of orders on behalf of clients, dealing on own account, portfolio management and investment advice. JFD Group Ltd is also licensed to provide the ancillary services of safekeeping and administration of financial instruments, granting credits or loans to one or more financial instruments, foreign exchange services where these are connected to the provision of investment services and investment research and financial analysis.

- Interest rate risk: Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Company's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. The Company's Senior Management monitors the interest rate fluctuations on a continuous basis and acts accordingly.
- 3. Liquidity Risk: it refers as the risk when the maturity of assets and liabilities does not match. An unmatched position potentially enhances profitability but can also increase the risk of losses. The Company has policies and procedures with the object of minimizing such losses such as maintaining sufficient cash and other highly liquid current assets and by having available an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. In accordance with the CySEC clients' money rules, the Company holds in segregated, clearly designated as clients' money bank accounts, all the funds of its clients. Therefore, the Company considers liquidity risk in relation to all clients' trading activity to be significantly low.

3.2.2. Operational Risk

Operational risk is the risk of loss arising from inadequacies or failures in internal procedures, systems failure or external events, including low-probability events that entail a high risk of loss.

The Company manages operational risk through a control-based environment in which processes are documented and transactions are reconciled and monitored. This is supported by a program of audits undertaken by the Internal Auditors of the company and by continuous monitoring of operational risk incidents to ensure that past failures are not repeated.

In addition, the Company has in place processes, management tools and a control infrastructure to enhance the Company-wide control of its operational risk. These include, among others, specific procedures, permanent supervision, business continuity plans, and functions dedicated to the oversight and management of specific types of operational risks, such as fraud, risks related to external service providers, legal risks, information system security risks and compliance risks.

3.2.3. Compliance Risk

Compliance means acting in accordance with applicable regulatory rules, as well as professional, ethical and internal principles and standards. Legal and Compliance risk could arise as a result of breaches or non-compliance with legislation, regulations, agreements or ethical standards or due to administrative or disciplinary sanctions which could have as effect material financial losses.

The probability of such risks occurring is relatively low due to the detailed internal procedures and policies implemented by the Company and regular reviews by the Internal Auditors. #### 3.2.6. Risks related to IFR/IFD

IFR/IFD has made substantial changes in the way that investment firms shall calculate their capital requirements. Specifically, the revised capital requirements framework introduces certain additional risks which are collectively referred to as K-Factors.

K-Factors requirements (KFR) is a methodology recommended by the European Banking Authority, in order to capture the range of risks which an investment firm is exposed to. The K-factors essentially replace the CRR credit, market and operational risk approach in order to better calibrate the capital needed to meet the risks of the investment firm. K-factors are quantitative indicators or factors which represent the risks that an investment firm can pose to customers, market/liquidity and the firm itself.

K-factors are divided into the following categories:

1. Risk-to-Client (RtC): which covers the risk imposed to the Company's clients resulting from the business activities and services the Company offers. RtC is measured by the following k-factors: assets under management and ongoing advice (K-AUM), client money held (K-CMH), assets safeguarded and administered (K-ASA), and client orders handled (K-COH).

JFD Group Ltd is authorised and regulated by the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission - CySEC (Licence number: 150/11) and is a Member of the Investor Compensation Fund (ICF). JFD Group Ltd operates in accordance with the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID II) and is licensed to provide the investment services of reception and transmission of orders in relation to one or more financial instruments, execution of orders on behalf of clients, dealing on own account, portfolio management and investment advice. JFD Group Ltd is also licensed to provide the ancillary services of safekeeping and administration of financial instruments, granting credits or loans to one or more financial instruments, foreign exchange services where these are connected to the provision of investment services and investment research and financial analysis.

As at 31/12/2022, the Company was exposed to:

	K-factor Requirement
	(amount in thousand)
K-AUM	96
К-СМН	25,856
K-ASA	30,252
К-СОН	165

2. Risk to Market (RtM): which relates to the market risk for positions the Firm holds in CFDs underlying financial instruments such as foreign currencies, commodities, indices, precious metals, commodities and equity securities. RtM captures net position risk (K-NPR) in accordance with the market risk provisions of CRR or, where permitted by the competent authority for specific types of investment firms which deal on own account through clearing members, based on the total margins required by an investment firm's clearing member (K-CMG).

As at 31/12/2022, the Company was exposed to:

	K-factor Requirement (amount in thousand)
K-NPR	37
K-CMG	0
Market risk capital requirements based on NPR	K-factor Requirement (amount in thousand)
Position risk	0
Foreign exchange risk	400
Commodity risk	0
Total (NPR)	400

3. Risk to Firm (RtF): which covers the Company's exposures to their trading counterparties (K-TCD), the concentration risk in the Company's large exposures (K-CON), and the operational risk arising from the Company's trading flow which could result from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events (K-DTF).

As at 31/12/2022 the Company was exposed to:

	K-factor Requirement (amount in thousand)
K-TCD	0
K-DTF	0
K-CON	0

4. Concentration Risk: Includes large individual exposures and significant exposures to companies whose likelihood of default is driven by common underlying factors such as the economy, geographical location, instrument type etc.

The Company has no significant concentration of credit risk. Due to these factors, management believes that no additional credit risk beyond any amounts provided for collection losses is inherent in the Company's trade receivables.

The Company has a policy in place to monitor debts overdue by preparing debtors ageing reports. Fees receivable which are past due the payment period are chased for collection.

3.3. Other Risks

3.3.1. Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Risk

Money laundering and terrorist financing risk mainly refers to the risk that the Company may be used as a vehicle to launder money and/or finance terrorism. The Company has established policies, procedures and controls in order to mitigate the money laundering and terrorist financing risks.

The Company uses remuneration as a significant method of attracting and retaining key employees whose talent can contribute to the Company's short- and long-term success.

8. INTERNAL CAPITAL ADEQUACY ASSESMENT PROCESS

IFR/IFD framework introduces a key change, launching the Internal Capital Adequacy & Risk Assessment ("ICARA") Process for the Companies, replacing the previously established ICAAP for quantifying the Companies exposure to risk and deriving their Capital Adequacy ratio, as well as to required level of initial capital.

The concept of the ICARA process, which is similar in some respects to the former ICAAP, with some key differences, to determine the Pillar II capital requirements. Much like the ICAAP process, the ICARA will need to demonstrate that adequate risk management has been undertaken by the firm. As part of the ICAAP, firms were expected to conduct an assessment against a specific list of risk categories. However, under the ICARA process, the focus has shifted more onto the Company's business model and its activities. From there it should identify, assess and estimate the potential harm to clients, to markets, and to the firm itself, as opposed to simply risks to the firm.

Under ICARA it is important to identify risks and potential harms and consider what could go wrong to the point of failure of the firm. Thus, Investment firms need to consider 'what-if' scenarios for the activities they undertake, the harm that can be caused and the events that led to that.

The assessment will need to factor in the likelihood of the events materializing, and that different events might occur at the same time. Companies also need to consider and account for other risks that can reduce the level of their own funds. This may require a more conceptual approach to assessing the risk than that which those familiar with the current ICAAP may be used to, as well as more time and input from senior management and those charged with a firm's governance.

The key stages of a Company's ICARA process should be as follows:

- Identify and monitor harms: Operate systems and controls to identify and monitor all material potential harm.
- Undertake harm mitigation: Consider and put in place appropriate financial and nonfinancial mitigants to minimise the likelihood of crystallisation and/or impact of the material harm.
- Undertake business model assessment, planning and forecasting: Forecasting capital and liquidity needs, both on an ongoing basis and were they to have to wind-down.
